MOODY DEAD

Great Evangelist Succumbs After a Brief, Yet Severe, Illness.

DIES IN CHILDHOOD HOME

Recently Broke Down While in the West Evangelizing—Went Home.

THE SPURGEON OF AMERICA

1 NORTFIELD, Mass., Dec. 22.—Dwight L. Moody, the famous evangelist, died in his home here yesterday. While he was in poor health his health gave way and it was decided his heart was involved. He had to give up his work and came home, since which time, in spite of reports that he was improving and would recover, it was well-settled in minds of all that he was failing rapidly. The ministerial life—a life spent in that of Spurgeon—was closed when his eyes shut in death. There are no announcements as to funeral yet.

The disease had been improving for two days and recovery expected for, but yesterday afternoon it came for the worse and so rapidly death is now said to be due to Bright's disease.

Mr. Moody was fully conscious to the end and talked with members of his family a few minutes before he died.

The deceased was born June 1837. He went to Chicago in 1853, where he entered the revival field a few years later. His fame as a platform evangelist had spread and his services were in demand all over the country.

Mr. Moody and his son have attracted attention among the "80's in touring the country to gather as evangelists.

Judge Reed Returns From Mayfield This Morning.

Judge W. M. Reed returned yesterday from Mayfield, where he has been sitting as special judge in the case of Bell et al. against L. E. Wilson and others for perjury.

The suit is brought by one factum against another, both of which claim to be the only real Hardshell Baptists.

The trouble grew out of a sermon by one of the elders. One faction is led by Elmer Kirkland and another by Amos.

The case has lasted all the week and was today left open by Judge Reed until next Wednesday, when arguments will begin. They are expected to consume two more days.

There is little involved in the sum except religion.

QUESTION SETTLED.

Old Bonds Presented Against the City No Good.

The records were searched thoroughly, and it was found where they had all been paid.

WALL STREET SHAKEN.

Another Panic Stirrs Up Gotham City Today.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—There was another panic on Wall street this morning. Sugar went to 117, four points lower than it touched in the panic a few days ago. Heavy cotton is all stocks for the past two weeks rendered today's situation ominous.

Louis reports the condition a little better today, and the only reasons apparent on the surface for the Wall street trouble are the failure of the Globe bank of Boston, and expected shipment of three million in gold from New York to Europe today.

The trouble grew out of a sermon by one of the elders. One faction is led by Elmer Kirkland and another by Amos.

The case has lasted all the week and was today left open by Judge Reed until next Wednesday, when arguments will begin. They are expected to consume two more days.

GEN. BULLER

Will Not Retreat From His Position in Natal, but Will Move Ahead.

BRITONS AWAITING FORCES

Melmoth's Force May Withdraw From Modder River Temporarily.

HE TAKES LEAVE OF QUEEN

LONDON, Dec. 22.—It is learned at the war office that General Buller will pursue his campaign in Natal without waiting for the arrival of Generals Gordon and Methuen, who are the British commanders operating in Cape Colony. They have been ordered, however, to stop their own march the new campaign is set on foot. In like with this plan General Methuen will probably fall back from his position at Modder river.

The new wharf, which is at the foot of Washington street, is destined to cause some little trouble, it seems. The city's portion of the expense will be paid by the company.

The property owners want to start with that the street had been improved previously, that the city has no right to make them pay for a public wharf, when they are deriving no rights and all the convenience of the street and sidewalk by a property owner, there being no sidewalks or gutters.

The Mill and Elevator company, it is said, will act as a further reason that the improvement is so near its completion.

Contractor Terrel will doubtless fall into some one, but whether the city or the property owners will have to pay remains to be seen.

SUITS FILED.

Mrs. Harrison Sues Jesse Harper for $2,000 Damages.

Mrs. Eugenia Morgan Harrison this morning filed suit in the circuit court against Jesse Harper, the Big band merchant, for $2,000 damages.

She claims that he had harassed her by sending about $80 to her suitors in the city to dissuade them from the bank.

The Bank trusteeship of Mrs. Harrison's home to sell a chicken and when he had gotten some distance up the road missed the money, which he had left on the back of his wagon. The money has never been found, and Mrs. Harrison was acquitted at her trial.

Mr. E. Lynn sued Major Thomas E. Mess for $1750 sustained on a contract between Miss Lynn and Mr. Lynn for services said to have been rendered in the C. O. Alford case, now settled.

Miss Under says E. C. Thompson is $1000 on a note.

F. E. Cartwright, sued J. W. McCreath and W. B. Holland for $1,000 damages. The suit is in an action against Mr. McCreath.

W. B. Holland as sheriff sold his son's and fixtures, alleging that he sold them for another man's debt, whom the son really belonged to him.

Mr. E. Lynn sued Major Thomas E. Mess for $1750 sustained on a contract between Miss Lynn and Mr. Lynn for services said to have been rendered in the C. O. Alford case, now settled.

FRIDAY, DEC. 22, 1899.

Lord Roberts, who goes to South Africa to take charge of the British forces, is 67 years old.

The United States government has finally adopted "Puerto Rico" as the official spelling of the name of that island.

Chairman Burton of the river and harbor committee authorizes the statement that there will probably be no river and harbor bill at the present session of congress.

Since December 1 the wages of 170,000 workmen in this country have been raised. An occasional speculative flurry amounts to little compared with this substantial item.

Chairman Hanna has issued his official call for the meeting of the national Republican convention at Philadelphia, June 19, 1900. The call is printed entire elsewhere in

The Sun.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "Goebel

still pursues his idea that elections

in Kentucky are to be decided by some crooked political scheme instead of by votes. Such a creature in the governor's mansion would curse the state beyond all precedent."

No sane man questions that expansion has become a doctrine of the state

whether or no, and that it has come to stay is just as clear.

The Democrats will do well to recognize what is so clear a fact to all others

and to stand in front of the train.

The Democrats, who propose to hold their national convention July 4th, should complete the combination by gathering in Louisville. The day and the place would insure a noisy convention if nothing else. Then the metropolis would be large enough to accommodate the body.

Chairman Prior has issued a call for a meeting of the state election commission at Frankfort Saturday

to canvass the various district congressional vote. If Captain Elts

and Mr. Poynett both attend the representation of Judge Goebel, which is alleged to have been called to the legislature, the pretender and seating

the governor chosen by the people. Hence the alteration of the law in so far as the action of the legislature is concerned.

"But the Republican candidate is in possession, and it is now necessary to control both houses in order to pass a joint resolution unseating the pretender.

"We do not believe such an antagonistic scheme can succeed in either house, notwithstanding the senate in the state there are 24 Democrats, 2 Populists

and 12 Republicans.

"In a matter of this kind the Populists have more at stake than the Republicans. Moreover, the Populists have been the consistent opponents of fraudulent elections and fraudulent election laws, and it is not believed that at this critical period any Populist will desert his party to endorse Goebel.
